Celebrating 100 Years Of Greek Traditions & Orthodoxy

Fifty one Greek Festivals and one hundred years of Orthodox worship in Pensacola. Now that is something to celebrate! Thank you for joining us this weekend as the members of the Annunciation Greek Orthodox Church join together to share our dual heritage of Greek culture and Orthodox faith with the Pensacola community.

Started by parishioners in 1959 as a dinner, the popular Pensacola event has evolved into a full-blown 3 day event serving a variety of Greek foods along with traditional dance performances, live entertainment, church tours and shopping. This annual event is a labor of love for church parishioners. Many members put in hundreds of hours to prepare for the festival and volunteer during the event.

Stay informed about festival news and volunteer opportunities for next year's festival by joining our mailing list at www.pensacolagreekfestival.com and by "liking" us on Facebook.

Each year a portion of the festival proceeds are donated to a local charitable organization. This year the Festival will support Catholic Charities of Northwest Florida - a ministry of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee that helps Northwest Florida's families in need.

HISTORY OF OUR CHURCH

The first Greek immigrants that came to Pensacola were seaman that manned sailing vessels in the mid to late 1800's. Later some of the crew settled here as fishermen. Gradually the stream of immigrants from Greece increased. These new citizens made their living in the fishing industry, groceries, restaurants and other small businesses. The first Greek Orthodox Church was built in 1910 at the corner of Wright and Reus Street and was the home to this parish until 1954 when the present church on Garden Street was constructed. The Hellenic Center was built in 1950 and the Fr. Leftheris Education Building was completed in 1961. The Church was consecrated by Archbishop Iakovos of blessed memory in 1973. Our parish is an active community of 150 families of various ethnic backgrounds. The Annunciation Greek Orthodox kicked off their Centennial celebration in May of 2010!

CHURCH TOURS

Please join our choir members for a twenty minute, informative tour of our Byzantine style church. You'll learn a little about the history of our Orthodox Faith and hear the choir perform several Byzantine hymns.

ENTERTAINMENT

KOSTAS KASTANIS BAND from Kentucky is performing live Greek music for your enjoyment during festival hours.

One of the highlights of the Pensacola Greek Festival each year is watching the dancers and then joining them on the dance floor. The younger dance group is called Hara which means Joy in Greek. The middle and high school group is called the Glenzethes which means Merry Makers. Our alumni group comprised of young adults will perform a special set on Saturday afternoon at 3:00pm. Visit our website for more information on each of the dances that are performed.
